Investment Objectives and Strategies

The Fund's investment objective is to maximize long term risk-adjusted total returns, delivered through cash distributions and long term capital appreciation, in a manner consistent with preservation of capital and prudent risk management by actively investing primarily in corporate fixed income instruments of North American issuers, including high yield bonds (senior secured and senior unsecured), investment grade bonds, senior floating rate loans of varying maturities and other floating rate fixed income securities.

Risks

There were no changes to the Fund over the period of this report that materially affected the overall level of risk associated with an investment in the Fund. Holders should still refer to the prospectus of the Fund dated January 15, 2016 as it contains a detailed discussion of risk and other considerations relating to an investment in the Fund. The prospectus is available free of charge on our website at www.firstasset.com and on SEDAR at www.sedar.com. Readers are also directed to note 5 and the Fund Specific Notes of the Fund's 2015 annual financial statements, which discusses management of financial risks.

Results of Operations

On January 19, 2015, the Fund completed a merger with First Asset Active Credit Fund (the "Merged Fund") (formerly, First Asset Yield Opportunity Trust - TSX: FAY.UN and FAY.U) and commenced trading on the TSX on the same day under the ticker symbols FAO and FAO.U with initial net asset values of $10 per Common Unit and $10 USD per US$ Common Unit. In connection with the merger, each issued and outstanding Series A Unit of the Merged Fund received 1.10586 Common Units of the Fund (TSX: FAO) and each issued and outstanding Series B Unit of the Merged Fund received 0.41337 US$ Common Units of the Fund (TSX: FAO.U). The Fund's Advisor Class Units (TSX: FAO.A) and US$ Advisor Class Units (TSX: FAO.V) commenced operations on January 23, 2015.

For the period, the Fund's Common Units returned -3.3%, the Fund's Advisor Class Units returned -3.8%, the Fund's US$ Common Units returned -3.9% and the Fund's US$ Advisor Class Units returned -4.4%. These returns assume the reinvestment of all distributions. The Fund's Common Units, Advisor Class Units, US$ Common Units and US$ Advisor Class Units had per unit distributions of $0.53, $0.43, $0.52 USD and $0.43 USD, respectively, during the year.

During the period, the Fund's performance was driven primarily by poor market conditions for most of the year and poor performance of specific investments in the high yield bond and senior loan portfolio.

The composition and changes to the composition of the Fund's portfolio in the period were consistent with the investment objectives and strategy of the Fund. Portfolio capital was deployed primarily in lower duration high yield bonds that the Portfolio Manager assesses to be larger and more actively traded and were selected for their strong asset coverage and/or cash flow coverage, among other criteria.

A number of macro-economic events dominated headlines during the 12-month period ended December 31, 2015, all of which drove negative market sentiment. These included a slowdown in global growth, volatility in the energy markets, eurozone uncertainty and U.S. monetary policy. Credit markets had a dismal year, with credit spreads driven wider by poor equity market performance and elevated default risks, especially from the energy sector.

Greece was in the headlines again after the left-leaning Syriza party won Greek elections with a pledge to citizens of relief from austerity while remaining in the eurozone. Initial proposals by the Greek government to reduce austerity measures fell short of European Central Bank expectations and raised concerns that Greece would be forced to exit the eurozone. The Greek debt crisis was averted when the government agreed to austerity measures in exchange for more debt to pay off its current obligations.

The price of oil collapsed over 50.0% from mid-year highs of US$60 per barrel to close 2015 around US$30. Crude inventories continued to rise even as rig counts declined in both Canada and the U.S. Sentiment for oil prices remained soft as the Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries ("OPEC") maintained production quotas to protect market share along with elevated Iranian supply potentially hitting the market in early 2016. Primarily as a result of the pullback in energy prices and its impact on the economy, the Bank of Canada ("BoC") cut interest rates twice in 2015, further weakening the Canadian dollar, which finished down 16.5% versus the U.S. dollar. Sentiment in the market is for one additional 25 basis point ("bp") cut in rates in 2016.

The Chinese government took several steps to stabilize equity markets and support its economy, including devaluation of the yuan, equity market controls and forced buying by state-owned agencies of equities. These moves all added volatility to the markets. The estimated growth rate for China was downgraded during the year, which did not help sentiment for commodities.

The U.S. Federal Reserve Board ("Fed") waited until its December meeting before raising the federal funds rate by 25 bps, basing the decision primarily on improving employment numbers. There is some debate on the pace of future rate hikes, but with recent economic trends pointing to a slowing in the U.S. and global economy, the pace of future hikes is expected to be measured.

Recent Developments

The Portfolio Manager expects the U.S. economy to deliver modest growth in 2016, while many foreign and emerging market economies continue to face headwinds. The Portfolio Manager expects continued volatility in the markets generally, as a result of the selloff in oil and commodities and the continued uncertainty surrounding geopolitical events. Given this backdrop, the Portfolio Manager is cautious heading into 2016 but maintains a positive high yield bond and loan market outlook.

The outlook for the high yield bond and senior loan market is cautiously optimistic, based on modest U.S. economic growth. A rise in defaults, primarily in the energy sector, the pull back in commodity prices, and the continued slowdown in Chinese economic growth could impact this outlook and the Portfolio Manager will adhere steadfastly to the Fund's prudent investment approach.

On October 23, 2015, CI Financial Corp. announced that it had agreed to acquire First Asset Capital Corp. The transaction, which closed on November 30, 2015, resulted in a change of control of First Asset.

Administration Services Inc., an affiliate of First Asset, administers the Fund's relationship with the Fund's Independent Review Committee ("IRC") on behalf of First Asset, however, it receives no compensation for doing so.

Notes:

- (1) This information is provided as at December 31 of the year shown.
- (2) Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.
- (3) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively First Asset manages the Fund's portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher a fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between high turnover rate and the performance of a fund.
- (4) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.
- (5) If the securities traded during the period, the closing market price on the last trading day during the period that the securities traded, as reported on the TSX.
